With the charging case, your Beats Studio Buds provide up to 24 hours of combined playback. When you're ready, here's how to charge them. Your earbuds each provide up to eight hours of playback.1 With the charging case, you can get up to 24 hours of playback.2 And with Fast Fuel, you can get up to one hour of playback after you charge for five minutes.3 To keep your Beats Studio Buds charged, put them in the charging case when you're not using them. When the case battery is less than 40% charged, the LED on the front turns red. If the LED blinks red, you might need to reset your earphones. To charge your Beats Studio Buds, place them in the charging case. When you need to charge both the earbuds and the charging case, here's what to do: Place the earbuds in the charging case. Connect the charging case to a power source with the USB-C cable that's included with your Beats Studio Buds. You can also charge the case without the earbuds. Click the Bluetooth menu button in the upper-right corner of your Mac. Select Beats Studio Buds to see the battery level of the earbuds. If you're having trouble charging your Beats Studio Buds, here are some things you can try. Make sure that the earbuds are seated properly in the charging case. Use another power source or a different cable. Reset your Beats Studio Buds. If you still need help, contact Apple Support. Testing conducted by Apple in April 2021 using preproduction Beats Studio Buds and Charging Case units and software paired with iPhone 11 Pro Max units and prerelease software. The playlist consisted of 358 unique audio tracks purchased from the iTunes Store (256-Kbps AAC encoding). Volume was set to 50% and Active Noise Cancellation and Transparency were turned off. Testing consisted of full Beats Studio Buds battery discharge while playing audio until the first Beats Studio Buds stopped playback. With Active Noise Cancellation turned on, listening time was up to 5 hours. Battery life depends on device settings, environment, usage, and many other factors.
